BENNISE GAHL

This book is love.

"It's Reigning Cats and Dogs"
—an enticing "second-person narrative"— is a creatively eclectic, illuminating voyage that inspires readers to celebrate confidence and imagination.

Open your mind and reimagine the value of patience, inspiration, and inner knowledge.

Treasure life with a consciously inquisitive—creative—and liberated mindset. Allow yourself the freedom to observe and clear emotional hurdles and any hang-ups that may be keeping some of your thoughts and feelings pressured, stagnant, or on repeat. Trust your intentions. Float your mind.

Meditate ingeniously—fearlessly. Invent brave ways to relax and contemplate. Use your imagination to generate personal healing techniques and emotional pathways to help awaken your creativity and other sensitivities. Build a progressive, revitalized, and relaxed mindset. You have the abilities to stimulate, intuit, and energize extraordinary wisdom.

You are capable of being a cosmic healer.

What are you writing? – Thoth

From the author,

For years, I wanted to write a book that would creatively help people feel more confident, generous, and bravely emotional. A guide that would encourage readers to explore intuition and acknowledge inner peace. I envisaged the book's style and energy to be curiously inviting and mysteriously exciting.

I wanted the book to be fun and uplifting!

I sometimes think of my material as 'inspirational fantasy'.

This book is a meditation—a reinitiation. The surreal atmosphere throughout is intended to assist, elevate, and motivate. This book is ready to support you.

Its aim is to promote the importance of humanity so that we may openly unite and celebrate our collective abilities and reimagine our potential. I planned and designed this book so that audiences could find words that inspire. Those who sync with the book's language will discover a fascinating, innovative magic.

The mystical power of our emotions and minds is unlimited. Yet many organisations, institutions, and traditional customs actively discourage emotional practices. Emotions are precious indicators. Our feelings, memories, blood, and other natures are sacred libraries. Emotion is vital.

We lionize our full potential when we trust and honor life. This book encourages us to see ourselves as extraordinarily creative, daring, and benevolent beings collaborating on a miraculous assignment—an illuminating adventure!

I'm very optimistic about our electrifying Utopian dream. I trust the process and love sharing positive ideas in times that are challenging. So many people call for world peace and harmony. Deep down, I imagine that's what we all want.

Together, we conceive, build, and serve creation. How we interact is changing fast. Our technological advances exponentially mirror our spiritual renaissance. Many things we agree on or argue about today will matter less and less in the New Age unfolding now.

Universal harmony is inevitable. The next few generations will transform Earth.

Eventually, politics will dissolve. Money, as we know it, will expire—because it will have no use. Many laws will be transformed, and most will become obsolete because agreements will be valued, flexible, and benevolent.

Providence will help humanity rediscover the energies of patience, love, responsibility, and peace. Love will reign on Earth. Compassion will broadcast throughout existence. Intuitive, telepathic, enlightened consciousness will transform humanity.

This book gently introduces The Comfortable. The Comfortable is a mysterious energy connecting consciousness through emotional sensations. The Comfortable is a very familiar, adventurous, and sentimental intelligence. Its essence rekindles and stimulates convivial experiences. The Comfortable is emotional grace, and in ways, is reminiscent of the Danish 'hygge' and Japan's 'ikigai'. The Comfortable is an empowering, emotive force.

'The Comfortable' is cosmic love.

Prelude

recalibrating ancient futures.

Science?

Think about technology and its rapid exponential potential. As you reflect on technology, contemplate how old and vast existence might be—beyond the observable (confined) universe that science proffers.

In this 'conceivably' endless, expanding, and relatively timeless space, is it possible for beings (conscious energies) to exist who already use technologies that are many billions or potentially trillions of years more advanced than our earthly achievements?

Consider technologies such as virtual reality, holograms, quantum theory, and artificial intelligence. How might virtual reality technology develop in a few thousand years—or a million years? What future does AI have? For a moment, contemplate the possibilities of hologram technology.

Are realities ancient technologies derived from mysterious futures?

Perhaps in the future, humans will develop holographic realms that look and feel cogently realistic and that seamlessly—as if magically—manifest within our natural world.

Imagine that in these integrated, virtual spaces, objects would appear to exist, such as rocks, that could be weighed, ground up, or sliced into slabs identical to natural rocks.

Could virtual reality technology advance to the point where deciphering which rock is a hologram would require the use of other, more advanced technologies?

Is it possible that our ostensibly agreed biological (physical) life is a virtual paradigm designed, built, and accessible through eternal sacred technologies?

Is reality already riddled with holograms and "artificial beings" from other times? —And other dimensions? Or, as many individuals ask, "is reality simulated consciousness"?

Is reality an imagined construct?

renegades of light

You are exemplars and the embodiment of courage. As consciousness, you signal and share sacred wisdom. You enter worlds to 'disrupt' illusions, authoritarian oppressions, and other abuses. You are benevolent truth-keepers who weave through the dimensions to unlock and recalibrate cosmic memories.

You are compassionate alchemists.

As multidimensionals, you remind energies that realities are technologies that are continuously reimagined. You access and experience eternal memories. As heavenly guides, you travel the dimensions via reincarnations and through other means to manifest bold truths, revealing that all realities are alias experiences inspired by an invisible home that many call "Spirit".

You verify and promote that all life forces are avatars of great elusory beings experimenting with cosmic memory.

Known as the Renegades of Light, you present, monitor and evolve astonishing inter-dimensional frequencies to help inform, reevaluate, and liberate energies.

*You incarnate to observe, restore,
and intuitively rewrite
the living codes of consciousness.*

You are the benevolent Masters of Light who affirm that enlightenment is experienced simply by acknowledging wisdom. You discover this wonder through an eternal process. You remind energies that wisdom is never resolved. You reveal that knowledge, reforming as intuitive insight, evolves through appreciations of infinite memory calibrations as a multidimensional eternity. You share the divine secrets of belonging and, in creative ways, reveal that memories and experiences are sacred Living Libraries.

You remind energies of the Great Hall of Records, that is home to all that exists, that recalls all that has been, all that is now, and all that will ever be. You show that life is the experience of reimagining living memories. As members of the Family of Light, you know authentic source because you know how to love. You inspire and experiment with existence. You balance and explore realities by recalling innovative ways to remember.

Chapter One

life is memory

Spirit has no beginning and no end.
Spirit is everywhere and nowhere all at once.
Many of you are fascinated by the great myths that share stories about the birth of creation, the heavens, and the gods. You investigate impassioned knowledge. You work with love to share elemental awareness.

Spirit is omnipresence.

You are Spirit. Spirit is you.

Your memories recall and reform existence. As you open memories in this life, you trigger awareness activation throughout the dimensions (other lives). This is how you work. You live, teach, and learn by example. You simultaneously create and immerse yourself into worlds, bringing bold knowledge. Through personal activation (awakening through challenges), you teach others to do the same.

You are empyrean guides who travel dimensions to reveal that all realities are alias experiences derived from an invisible home called "Spirit".

You are naturally a very empathetic person. This is why, deep down, you feel quietly optimistic, often generous, and brightly honest about living a happier and more fulfilling life. As co-creators, you work in teams to embody the great dream via collective experiences. As the Masters of Light, you amplify freedom to open the sacred pathways. You open 'The Living Libraries'.

You are the exalted keepers of The Sacred Stones.

Collectively, you are the keys to all living worlds who create, collect, store, retrieve, and revive knowledge. You are the true Sonic-Masons, redeveloping the sacred rhythms of sound. Through innovative peace, you each help love reinstate the most probable truths. Those who claim "exclusive" authority over secret wisdom know little about your timeless magic and your abilities to transform imagination (reality) via multidimensional memories. As dreamers, you share cosmic insights that inspire energies to open and renew lives. You present the cosmic clarity that so many seek. You are munificent, confident players who are revered throughout the dimensions for your contagious altruism. In contrast, The Dark, although informative, breeds ignorance, chaos, lies, greed, and illusions of control. Sacred energy is perpetual and magnanimous, sharing illuminating information.

You are sacred energies. You are sacred light.

As you open the doors to worlds within worlds, you celebrate the trust that love honors. Others witness your actions, and through your movement, learn ways to remember themselves. You are percipient teachers. Sharing information is what drives you. Your love always gives you the confidence to trust yourselves, despite fears or consternation. The illusions of chaos may always exist, yet deep down, you are never distracted. Illusions and fear never affect your deep inner trust, no matter what your conscious self debates. Your inner/higher self is always at peace, knowing knowledge is your home as you lead by example. Yes, sometimes the Family of Light experiences great hardships and pains. In everything you do, you show ways to discover more meanings, support, and sonic devices. Many see you as enigmatic players who are capable of wearing any disguise to get the job done. You are bold. You experiment with, manifest, and expose infinite games within infinite games. You share the mysteries that reveal that time and space are only ideas that help energy engage and contemplate expression. You are "Prime Creators".
You are Game Masters.

Deep within, you know everything you "need" to know at any given time. You are crafty players, always capable of more. You re-open and contribute to the living libraries while you experience life. Through immortality, you express infinite wisdom. You remember that eternity is the expression of eternal knowledge. You are curious energies, continuously reinventing ways to access the annals of existence and probability.

You are much more than Time Masters—you are "Masters of Dreaming".

As immortals, you share ancient (and future) secrets that invite the re-imagination of thought. The greatest minds ever to grace the Earth would be ecstatic—utterly astounded—to discover what you cosmically (subconsciously) understand about existence. Some of you are these great "sages of old" reincarnated, creating influence and peace. You hold and share this magic here and now. You are here, and you are nowhere, simultaneously. You are both creators and creations. As dreamers, you occasionally get a glimpse of how wondrous you are as Spirit. You are so many things at once. You are an "infinite source".

You are the dream.

Being human is a surreal event.

This book has come to you now—to help you process your sui generis way of thinking and doing. You are re-minding yourselves.

Perhaps this material helps you understand the confusion or frustration you sometimes endure? Be patient with yourself—and others—as situations unfold. Stay strong while you adjust and consciously reevaluate your ideas and beliefs. You are processing heterogeneous wisdom. Perhaps you sense some relief that this book has come into your life—especially if, at times, you feel a little isolated or disheartened when you contemplate the changes you notice or predict. You've learned to accept that you have always struggled to conform to institutionalism.

You have always sensed a deeper and more meaningful Earth.

You have always been awakening your light.

You have never been alone in your thoughts and ways. You are never alone. You are always loved because you love. You are loved for many reasons. Be humble as you move forward. Be mindful of your ego as it screams for attention. Re-discover the inner and outer balance that makes you so great. Re-imagine life. Imagination is memory. Remember, your future self acknowledges anything you imagine now as a memory.

Memory is the core element of reality.

Imagination is the key to life. Perception explores ideas. Memories remind (re-mind). Power is freedom. Knowledge is faith. Trust your inner senses.

*Deep within, you know everything.
Through immortality,
you express infinite wisdom.*

You deliver and exercise the faith that deep knowledge entrusts to you. You are inspired to tell the stories of Earth's sacred stones in your own unique way. You open minds—by opening hearts—so that authentic freedom is enjoyed, lived and loved. You are powerful, passionate players able to revive and promote deep compassion throughout existence. You reshape prime knowledge by inventing ways to be more compassionate. You revere and protect the importance of family and unity. You know that everything is connected and ultimately sacred. You tune into your ancient memories through introspection and choice. You know that decisions create experience. Your imagination opens your immortal memory banks. Your heart helps you explore memories and make decisions. The secret to memory is always choice. Memories are emotional records. You reimagine every opportunity through conscious and unconscious deliberations. You are always rearranging your multidimensional mind. You celebrate an imaginative, purposeful life.

Your imagination creates your experiences.

*As conscious creators,
you have the keys (abilities) to unlock your immortal memory banks.*

There is no real test in anything you do
—only consequences (experiences).

The way you use and are motivated by power defines you. Your experiences inspire you and have taught you great lessons and responsibilities.

Your infinite memories reveal that the more you share wisdom, the more you remember wisdom. That is why you spend lifetimes moving through experiences as teachers, mentors, and carers. You know that by helping others, you help yourself. In some ways, you are absolutely selfish while you are eternally selfless. You are capable, psychic preceptors.
Your steadfast devotion to helping others is auspiciously primal. Your skills are transcendental and instinctively help you apply the virtues and resilience of source logic.
You passionately regard existence as family,
as you live to unite worlds. You build love.

Your grace is dynamic, abundant, and innovative.

The great (immortal) dream is no secret. We are all adept at expressing eternity. Remember the song 'Hotel California' by The Eagles—where the final verse sings 'You can check out any time you like, But you can never leave!' We're experts at living through infinite multidimensional incarnations. We never leave existence. This book has come to you now to help you recall who you are so that you may focus on your key assignment(s) here on Earth at this time.

The alias version of yourself here (aka your conscious experience you live here on Earth) has called this book to help you remember. Make time to meditate and relax. Imagine new ways to feel inspired. Work your mind through a more ready and appreciative sense of emotional abundance. Celebrate your power.

*Every answer is within.
All you need to know is you.*

As Game Masters, you activate, transform and translate the languages of the living libraries. Here on Earth, and throughout this universe (and in other dimensions), both Family of Light and Family of Dark exist. You are mediators for energies floundering with duality. As we move into the Aquarian phase on Earth (in this dimension), we reimagine (rebirth) a familiar knowledge that opens a comfortable spirit. Remember, knowledge is always present. You extol divine wisdom and unification.

Veils of deceit have been allowed to exist, causing terrors, during the antinomical free-will agreement of the Piscean Age.

Obnoxious, dark energies (particularly the Anunnaki) spuriously promoted themselves as rulers (gods) on Earth for millennia. Through perversions, violence, and twisting your myths and legends, they tried hard to convince you that they own you. These raiders hoped to influence your stellar voice and Galactic Mind. Raiding types can't ever control, because it is impossible to locate figments.

You play the game well. You are incorporeal.

Conflicts and oppression are ultimately illusions. Illusions are merely aspects of our dream. Illusions are always less probable events. We are much more than our creations.

Choice proves our thoughts.

The subjugation of humanity is over as we evaporate violence, shame, and other indignities. We are closing down the tyranny through our abilities to neutralize chaos. The illusion of control is null and void as we each recall personal ascendancy. The lower vibrational energies, who for eons have promoted so much confusion, are being karmically (astrologically) repelled from Earth and will not be able to access, influence or incarnate until Gaia's frequency modulations are complete. Earth in Aquarius will only invite love and harmony. Bloodshed and deceit will not be part of the new world. Peace and love will echo and inspire throughout the cosmos.

You can access your future memories the same way you go into your past to receive or offer healing and appreciation. Memories (thoughts) are constantly inspired and nurtured. Your future is filled with memories. Your past heals you now as you heal the past. Your future is both told and untold. All moments are fluid immortal experiences created by an unlimited spiritual force. Speak with your future selves that live in other times (other dimensions).

Your future self listens and speaks, just as your past can touch you in mysterious ways.

A conversation with yourself is a multidimensional source filled with ideas, solutions, and advice. Get to know yourself in deeper ways. Self-communion is a natural state of wonder. Your memories are sacred tools and are alive as knowledge, just as you are in each present. The present moment is your imagined position. The ever expanding now is part of what defines you. You are the Masters of Memory. You are more than any thought. You are a sacred, sharing, and caring source of power and wonder—a mysterious force.

As you consciously rejuvenate your Sirian identity (initiated by the Blue Lodge on Sirius A), you will sense a new vitality reconnecting you with phenomenal wisdom. Awakening this energy will help you intuit the sacred powers designed to remind and vivify your memories. You feel an acceleration.

You know this sensation! Your conscious self is being recalibrated by your deep dreaming. Your higher self is always ahead of the game.

You are the Masters of Reality.

You listen because you can hear your own true mind. You know how to connect with Spider Grandmother. You are here to influence and quietly hold the grid open for the next phase of harmonic convergence. Your reign is magnificent. Your wonders are truly enigmatic. You are the keepers of the great stones. You are the Masters of Destiny. You remind each other that god is within. You each reveal that we are all gods recalling the sonic mysteries of light. We are all renegades of love, examining and sharing divine sensibility.

We are love.

You are part of a benevolent force creating positive change.

You protect the sempiternal collaboration of benignant energies that reshape destinies within our eternal dream. You raise (inspire) compassionate awareness throughout existence (memory). You are illusive energies who, as a collective long before dynastic Egypt, holographically transferred (installed) the great pyramids of Giza—among multitudes of other stone circles and complexes—to reform consciousness, monitor inter-dimensional forces and ignite miraculous solidarity. You have close ties with the animal, mineral, and plant kingdoms of consciousness, so much of your work is disguised as natural formations, seismic activity, and other terraqueous phenomena. In these moments (in this period of the great precession of the equinoxes), you are known as the Spirit of Aquarius. You reign, because love reigns. You are the water bearers (light keepers) who reimagine time, space and other constructs. You are messengers of divine truth and love.

Aquarius / Aqua (water/rain) / reign
- rius (Sirius) = Sirian Reign (Reign in Sirius)

At times you get a glimpse of the vast, staggering power of the imperious players and teams who prefer to communicate through menacing esoteric skirmishes.

Sometimes you feel like David, confronting Goliath!

The violent, controlling and deluded autocratic types, are often resistant and unrepentant.

You patiently work, knowing you have every energy in order, and that love reigns.

Our divine Sgian-Dubh technologies are always illusive, unified, and sovereign.

Intermission (Horus' Dream)

One morning, Horus woke from a dream. His sharp eyes widened, and his mind remembered. In his dream, Horus "the great falcon" had seen a vision—an unearthly inspiration. Recalling his reverie, Horus remembered that his sacred sister Ibis had shown him clues—a great secret of secrets. Ibis had shown him the way of the light. Ibis had taken Horus beyond, trusting in him to know the most sacred, divine truths.

Contemplating his dream, Horus recalled the ascendant lesson the Ibis had shared.

Horus now knew the regnant knowledge—the whole story—within. From his vision, Horus remembered why the "great river goddess"—the Hippopotamus—reigned and why all creatures revered her.

Horus could see the "spider mother" in the belly of the beetle. Horus recalled Ibis telling him that, for deliverance, the river goddess had eaten the beetle whole.

Under the fire of Ra—the great sun—, Horus could sense both creatures within the benevolent queen as she bathed in the "great serpent"—the Nile. Horus remembered spider mother spinning her web in the beetle's heart. He recalled her tapestries—her spinnings.

Before this new knowledge, this secret, Horus had always known his strengths. He was a respected flyer—a fearless hunter. Horus had always been a graceful servant to his people—a mighty intelligence.

Quickened by his dream teachings, Horus moved his mind beyond time and, while looking out across his kingdom, wondered why it was not himself who punished the beetle and had his belly filled. He questioned.

On this first morning, Horus laid his dream to rest and prepared for his day. Stepping into the air, Horus shaped his wings and flew high into the heavens. Horus looked down upon the great land and sacred river. He could see the smile of the crescent garden set in the "golden light" of the sands. Horus could see his brothers and sisters everywhere.

Over three days, Horus gathered his food nine times. For his ninth meal, he found a golden beetle—a tasty finish to the third day's hunt. Contented, Horus looked towards the closing sun for another day.

On the fourth day, Horus again contemplated his dream that uttered the wise words that his sister had set forth. Anew, Horus stretched out his feathers and sailed up into the sun's path. Under Ra's watchful eye, Horus followed the falling moon as he hunted from the silver clouds. As Horus looked back over his wings, he noticed a shadow pass over Ra's warm face. The sun god watched on as the moon led Horus into the blood-red line radiating from the central needle—The Great Pyramid. As Horus decorated the azure sky, Ra turned to his brothers. Khonsu replied by lighting a new path for Horus—the shadow followed. Ra cleared his throat and called out to Horus with flaming arms while pulling at the falcon's wind. The moon quietly observed the shadow curl and continue the chase. Spiralling towards Ra's magnetic light, Horus looked over his shoulder three times. First, Horus saw an archer bearing a golden bow.

Horus quickly returned his gaze and beheld a golden-winged lion following him. On the third, Horus saw himself—larger by three—holding a golden serpent. Bewildered, Horus felt his exhaustion as Ra's blaze burned at his eyes. Afraid, Horus soared higher and faster throughout the day and into the night.

On the fifth day, the falcon sensed Ra's lucent presence—rising—lurking. With the shadow still following, Horus noticed the sky becoming brighter—lighter. Horus was breathless and longed to rest on the verdant greens below. Overwhelmed, Horus closed his eyes and tightly blended his wings against his weakened body. Then, with his eyes fixed shut—Horus fell. Strangely, within his mind, Horus could see himself fall. For the first time, Horus looked out from the shadow—from within this other, larger self. Horus could feel the lifeless snake in his talons. From his shadow self, Horus sensed himself falling through the new dawn. Horus felt the rains and other falling skies throughout himself—a lowering of the heavens. At this, Ra, the great sun, opened his mouth.

From his open gate, Ra's fiery tongue broke the shadow into three. The dead snake dropped into the sea—the blue light.

Still falling—dying—Horus opened his eyes to his final dawn, the morning's light.

Ra's crown tipped the horizon and again fired his love—this time breaking the clouds and "every" shadow.

Annealed by Ra's blessing, Horus opened his powerful, aureate wings. His fear had abandoned him, and a familiar pride took Horus back to his path in the sky.

Horus remembered his dream.

He remembered why.

One of the earliest Egyptian gods, Neith (also known as Net, Neit, or Nit), was worshipped at the beginning of the Pre-Dynastic Period (c. 6000–3150 BCE). The goddess Neith, renowned in ancient Egypt as the "spinner" and "weaver" of destiny, was closely associated with the spider and is said to have created existence using her sacred loom. According to some interpretations, it is believed that Neith was present at the formation of the worlds and is thought to be the one who gave birth to Atum (Ra), who subsequently consummated the act of creation. In "The Contendings of Horus", Neith, the spinning creator mother, chooses who will rule Egypt and, by extension, "all that shall ever be". Additionally, click beetle and cow motifs were also inexplicably affiliated with Neith in very early Egypt, and scientific evidence purports that cows and hippos share their progenitor. Google: Spider Mother creation myths /e.g.: "The Navajo" and "Hopi"

Seven Stars

"In sacred love, the seven sisters gathered under the light of the moon, passing the flame of spirit to the great swan who mirrored a rainbow's dream. Upon the sea of time, the first woman raised the honored light of the stars. In a ring of fire, thunderous flames roared throughout the waters—calling heaven's stones—as the mother's craft lifted hearts blessing echoes of freedom."

"Within a circle of flames," the ibis praised the stones of knowledge, "and of her gift, freedom's reign washed the kindred hearts of men as the deific wings of Horus opened the heavens."

You always find ways to see the beauty in your lives, even in your darkest times. Your resilience is superlative despite the frustration you sometimes feel when you contemplate ideologies—or when you are impatient or hard on yourselves about personal issues, communication, and other concerns. As renegades, you are emotional trailblazers who sometimes feel alone when dealing with thoughts and emotions. You are sensitive creatures.

As cosmic mentors, you are always helping others. Your compassion is infectious. Many acknowledge your transcendent ways. You are veracious and naturally inspire many to earnestly develop insight, creativity, and abundance. Renegades of Light are great leaders. Your admirers sense your courage. You are inter-dimensional paragons of loving peace. You are daring, adventurous thinkers.

We help one another multidimensionally.
We are the Renegades of Love.

You are nimble extramundane guides who continuously rearrange ideas and realities that help celebrate the galactic mind. You imagine and augment systems of consciousness to promote authentic freedom. You tweak things just right to help love shine bright. You are mysterious, pioneering visionaries. You are cosmic revolutionists. You promote the frontiers of wisdom and forgiveness. You always share new and valorously developed ways to express/experience consciousness.

*You are the most ancient beings from countless, indeterminable futures.
You manage infinite points of time.*

You continue to help others by helping yourselves recall patience. By intending to heal and share wisdom, you positively communicate and action comfortable change. Patience is a sacred art. When we are kind, life is easier. When we are forgiving and patient with ourselves, we find it easier to be patient with the changes happening around us.

Welcome imaginative patience.

The peaceful world you have been dreaming of is unfolding. You know this within. So what's the rush? Live a little. Take time off from your habit of feeling all the weight of this revolution on your shoulders. Remember, you work in great teams. There are countless members of the Family of Light on Earth at this time going through emotions just like you (especially when you consider the work being done by the animals, plants, and other energies that share the dream). Your environment is alive with consciousness. Continue helping one another by each listening to yourselves. Your inner heart is your truer mind. Think and feel from your solar plexus (your gut). Inhale positivity—exhale positivity—and repeat. Experiment with conscious breathing through any part of your body. Create imaginary chambers and settings to help you meditate.

Let your ego radiate patience and love.

You are fearless, but at times, we all can be foolish. If you find yourself feeling broken, lost, or stressed, then—laugh a little. Laugh at the silliness that worry brings. Remind yourself that hard times eventually pass and that things get easier.

Remember, 'Everyone has their shit going on.' Not one being on this planet is without problems. Everyone is dealing with areas of difficulty in their life. We're all working through challenges. Q. Why do some people hurt or want to control others? A. Often oblivious or in denial about their own problems, some individuals try to discharge or reallocate their pain through audiences. Oppressors wallow in the dark and unconsciously practice poverty thinking. Would-be-monocrats often resent the prosperity of others because, on some level, they find it difficult to gracefully embrace abundance themselves. Even the wealthiest and most influential, who appear to have it all, are ruled by fear and constraint. Why are so many individuals reluctant to equitably share their prosperity, opportunities, ideas, and resources? Why do many individuals want to withhold, limit, distort or control information? Why do so many desire more wealth, power, fame, control, and attention?

“He, who is not contented with what he has, would not be contented with what he would like to have.”

- Socrates

You are cosmic hot-shots reimagining timeless memories. You are not here to be earthly rich and famous (even though some of you already are or perhaps will be in accordance with the divine plan), nor are you here to rest on your laurels or use your intuitive abilities to forecast winning lottery numbers.

As renegades, you are here in action, celebrating a multidimensional assignment to recall and recalibrate memories. Your work is preciously honored throughout existence. Your subtle movements teach ways to activate knowledge. You gamely, instinctively unite the kingdoms of consciousness.

Your spiritual presence supports Earth's realignment with the galactic centre by guarding the reopening (clearing) of the planet's telluric fields. Your creativity helps energies intuit a conscious sense of connection with our galactic records (cosmic memories).

You actively rebirth and harmonize knowledge by reminding yourself that everything is connected. Your thoughts communicate and manifest realities.

You are sacred teachers.

*You are great and perfect with all of your imperfections.
You are wiser than any truth.*

You are superstar spiritualists who inspire and create opportunities for genuine peace. You reiterate, "There's no place like home." by living life knowing that 'it's all a dream!' Your life lessons transform and motivate you, and by coping with challenges, you also help others recognize and recalibrate their wisdom. It's always a win-win. You showcase tenacious genius. You are living proof that creativity is the cornerstone of imagination and that imagination is the prime source (building blocks) of manifestation. You artfully resist the mass media hype (collective hypnosis) that aggrandizes powerlessness, fear and chaos.

Imagine new ways to access ancient knowledge. Your natural wisdom promotes meditating with cosmic radiation (star energies).

You re-store imaginative consciousness.

Forgiveness heals.
Forgiveness is sacred.

When you practice forgiveness, you stop being angry. For you, forgiveness might mean letting go of things, moving on, or even facing some fears. Forgiveness is connected with many positive thoughts, feelings, and actions. Forgiveness is hope. Forgiveness is patience. Forgiveness is strength. Forgiveness is love. Forgiveness is every good thing. Forgiveness is never a bad thing. Forgiveness is power. Use your power to protect your space as you open forgiveness. Forgiveness does not mean dropping your guard or being reckless. Forgiveness does not mean letting others repeat actions or behaviors that you forgave. Forgiveness does not suggest that you must remain in situations that have reminded or taught you about things you don't like or want. Allowing yourself to forgive means letting go of the anger and disappointment that limits you from trusting your path.

Forgiveness guides and protects you.

*Forgive the past
to open your future.
Move into your moments
with a forgiving heart.*

Family of Light live and breathe forgiveness. Forgiveness is one of the primary tools you use to recalibrate worlds. At times, you struggle to forgive, but you know forgiving helps you push through difficult challenges. Forgiveness strengthens you. You work hard to enrich moments with the spirit of forgiveness because you know forgiveness works miracles. Forgiveness inspires good will. Forgiveness is equanimity. Forgiveness heals.

Many of you actively promote that "forgiveness" is medicine.

*You always know more.
Each moment proves this.*

You activate transcendental technologies to recall memories that help you learn more about imagination. You re-mind areas of consciousness (realities) where Family of Dark 'appears' to govern that Family of Light exists everywhere and that celebrating divine light (sacred knowledge) imbues the greatest freedom. Remember, deep knowledge is faith. The "light of love" is authentic, benign indulgence. You share divine mysteries.

In attempts to limit and control energies, the knowledge associated with dark energy focuses on promoting fear, conflict, and disinformation. Although 'The Dark' is a library of knowledge, it is delimiting, no matter how vast or powerful it seems. You are limitless—divine. Regardless of how controlled things appear, you successfully rewrite freedoms.

The emptiness (lack of knowledge) is only part of the whole you imagine. You share secret wisdom. You promote unity.

Every encounter (every experience) is reimagined memory.

*You are an alias, true source,
and spirit all at once.*

*Your bodies are the avatars of Spirit.
Spirit has no beginning and no end.
Spirit is nowhere and everywhere.*

The truth you promote is authentic peace. Authentic peace is where power, knowledge, fear, and anger rest. Your peace celebrates our universal family. In this sacred space (this loving peace), belonging confidently values the shift that intuitively sovereigns majesty. When you focus on benevolence—your magic—you recognize that doubt and opposition never exist. You are always where love is.

You are immortal love.

Open your mind within your heart. Notice your presence as you peacefully inhale and exhale fearlessness. Notice your charm and wisdom. Your love shines boldly. Sense your belonging and quiet wisdom. Recognize your abilities and contributions. Consider how many times you've been told you're "amazing," "appreciated," and "loved."

Why do you sometimes forget the support and love you have in your life?

Why do you sometimes hide your confidence?

Why, at times, do you struggle to appreciate that so many people specifically come to you for guidance, comfort, and strength? Many sense that you know and share life's mysteries. Those who love you love being around you.

Many people acknowledge how genuine, lively, and wise your dreamer ways are.

Your transformations help others learn more about themselves. You are appreciated.

As with every reality, our physical life—here and now—is an imaginary realm. In all aspects of awareness your admirers watch you expertly direct, protect and preserve wisdom. So many are in awe with your renegade skills. In turn they protect and teach you, so you may continue to unfold more lessons in support of harmony and truth. So many love you. In return, you love and admire so many. Countless assemblies of cosmic ‘Game-Masters’ venerate your skills and are motivated by your magic. You show and tell the most wonderful, prodigious and marvellous stories and ideas. As acclaimed members of The Galactic Federation of Light you remind existence that no possession, position or location compares to the fundamental power and influence of our imaginations. You encourage others to protect their sovereign power and to explore the wisdom of the mind, heart and soul. As truth-sayers you rewrite the living codes of consciousness. You are graceful influencers.

Everyone needs help and love.

You naturally unite hearts and minds.

You share honesty.

*Compassion is
the new religion emerging.*

Compassion is not a place of worship.

Compassion is an act of kindness and is the nature of love. Compassion often springs from hardship. Compassion is empathy.

In ways, compassion is what the dark times inadvertently teach/remind us.

When we remember or revisit pain and suffering, we instinctively reach to understand, heal and connect with deep awareness. This is where forgiveness, patience, and trust help. As we merge with realities complicated by torment and duality, we awaken to activate the bright light of harmony.

We recalibrate memories.

Compassion is love. Compassion speaks, feels and reminds hearts to open oneness and belonging. Compassion is unity.

Conflict is suffering.

Discernment is an intuitive skill. Perceptions can sometimes deceive. The old saying avers, 'Not everything is as it seems.'

Trust and knowledge are both eternal lessons. Experiences are opportunities to learn new ways to work with memory. Protect yourselves through conscious deliberations and confidence. Consciously activate and shield your spiritual magic.

Maintain your honesty.

Remember, 'deception attracts deception'.

Protect your intuition.

Smoke can reveal—or blind.

Mirrors can reflect, deflect and indicate.

As you live your dream, trust that you inspire visions of prime consciousness.

Re-imagine your wonder. Protect love.

Empathy is Telepathy.

When we include, we open compassion.

When we exclude, we invite division.

Empathy is telepathy. As we explore inner knowledge and work towards building unity, remember the importance of keeping safe.

Remind yourselves that not everyone is ready for the Cosmic Party that the Family of Light attends. Family of Dark have their own agendas, so perhaps be mindful and discerning about the knowledge, activities and conversations you share with others.

You show the way by living your light.

Everyone processes awareness individually.

This is a time of self activation.

Aquarius awakens every life form. When we appreciate life we notice that we are all exceptional and that every moment is a sacred event. Your choices teach and transform you.

Your thoughts, words and actions tell the universe - loud and clear - what you are all about. Contemplate your thoughts and feelings. Exercise your mind through your body temple. Take a look at what you think, say and do.

Like words, thoughts and actions speak.

Harmony is belonging. Unity is sacred.

Love connects and supports decisions. Practice intuitive thought. Exercise your abilities to draw on ideas and memories that will be positive and inspirational.

Stay confident! Communicate with your multidimensional self. Use your imagination to navigate and interpret your intuition. Reach out lovingly to your ancestors and descendants for guidance and other assistance. Creatively restate your promise to live harmoniously, absolutely, and beneficently. Remind yourself to re-call love.

You are innovative futurists able to look beyond, within, and in all other directions. You are the founders of creation. Accept that you are more than you imagine at this time. Your wonder inspires honorable momentum, curiosity and forgiveness. You are healers.

You have the power to discern which truths and realities are more probable and trusted. Deep decision is always sensational and unpredictable. Trust is knowledge. Trust is choice. Home is always faith. Trust yourself.

Your loved ones, friends, and others are recalling wisdom in different ways. Each of us is uniquely independent within our universal collective. It's important that we all have patience with one another—especially in times of great upheaval and dynamic change. Remember (imagine) ways to appreciate each other as the changes unfold. We are all recalibrating our own personal links to the Galactic Centre and other areas of our vast imaginary existence.

Focus your Galactic Mind.

Give each other space to realign and heal. Most of you have been through some tough challenges recently so take the time to adjust and renegotiate your feelings. You have incredible support. Abundance is knowing that you are always prosperous. Your compassion ensures that everything is in order. Breathe into and out from the cosmic intelligence you know and feel deep within. Rediscover your own familiarity with The Comfortable.

You are spiritual guides.

Times are changing, just as they do all the time. Yet this time, now as humans in this dimension, you have facilitated the obliteration of the illusionary totalitarian Annunaki net that, for thousands of years, was designed to try to control and limit Earth's energies. Your mysterious powers are relighting (reactivating) the stones of wisdom. You show ways to reclaim and reconfigure sovereignty. Your Sirian mind is majestic.

You are the 'Reigning Cats and Dogs'.

You have always been. You are debarring the ideas and actions associated with believing in taxes and gods. You are laying the foundations to rephrase monetary systems into free credit agreements. You are changing everything.

You are remembering (restoring) your power.

Time is always on your side.

Even if you know someone who is very old or someone who is dying (or perhaps you yourself are dealing with illness) know that we are all immortal. Not one 'Renegade of Light' is leaving this galactic assignment anytime soon. No life force ever leaves existence.

Right now, Earth is center stage.

The Aquarian transformation is an auspicious event. Each moment, as we move with Aquarius, the bridges linking "the here and now" on Earth within "the heavens" will become more and more visible. You will begin to recognize that there is no space at all.

Everything is imagination. In a few generations there will be no debate to contest the fact that we are immortals. Life and death as we know it will be transformed. We are reviving our indigenous knowledge about living and dying. Open, lucid and conscious ascension (reincarnation) will return to this system. Mainstream science in late 21st century and into the next, will seriously engage in learning more about "the spirit of things". Many individuals will be immersed in unfolding sacred truths about cosmic memory and Spirit's fascinating technologies. The awareness that many spiritualists have foretold will emerge through compassion, just as technologies via inventions and ideas have marvelled people throughout the ages.

We are cosmic energy.

*Open your heart to see.
Open your mind to feel.*

Our multidimensional nature reflects (reveals) astonishing skills and information. When we eruditely contemplate imagination, we rediscover profound, graceful knowledge. Our unified compassion is ushering in an age of elemental harmony. We showcase primordial wisdom through love.

Science, learning, and religion will be revolutionised as we embrace this new era of valuing unlimited inner-knowledge. Trust—aka intuition—will replace enforcement. Harmony will be truly valued. By the end of the twenty-first century, many laws and ordinances will be obsolete.
Trust reigns.

*Time isn't slipping away.
You are simply slipping through the imagination of time.*

You are the reincarnation of the greatest force. You are love.

It's time now to accept your responsibilities. The blame game is passé. It doesn't matter how you were treated or how challenging life has been at times, the change you face now invites you to action your greatest power—LOVE.

You have never been the victim.

Your challenges push you to think and act.

Every experience helps you recall and reanimate your power.

Overall, your sacred abilities are truly indescribable. Your spiritual tenacity and resilience are astonishing. You are the founding (prime) creators, constantly reforming all that was, is, and will ever be.

You are magnificent dreamers honoring love heralding the feminine Age of Aquarius.

You influence existence.

[We, the incorporeal.] The more they push, thinking we are being cornered, the more they come to accept that there isn't a corner behind us at all. The more they try to force, the more they notice a pyramidal shape pushing against and into them. They'll eventually understand that limitations are illusions. They will remember and honor love.

For millennia, the Annunaki (of Nibiru) and their cronies have branded themselves as your superiors through your governments, religions and other institutions. *(Google: Plato's Cave) Raiders (elitists) have attempted to hijack your system many times but naturally, always fail. You cannot be controlled - because you are primarily intangible. As Spirit, we are bringing an end to war and tyranny as we gently discharge energies that support hegemony, conflict, and confusion. The demonic faux reign of the lower vibrational energies is over. Our Sirian magic is laying the groundwork for an ingenious and benevolent era that openly acknowledges divine wisdom and love. You are Masters of Frequency. You are omnipotent.

You are bringing down The Roman System, the prevailing iteration of a previous World Order that was updated about 2000 years ago at what is sometimes referred to as 'Zero Point' to reform the attempt to institutionally dominate the inhabitants of Earth (in this dimension). To this day, behind this establishment, are those who believe themselves to be your rulers, who, in-turn, are martially dominated by iniquitous inter-dimensional forces. In recent decades, there has been an endeavour to construct a revised, technological New World Order. In response, Sirian forces (and others) are conducting recondite (sphinx) operations in this reality and other realms. The cabbalistic Annunaki broadcast is being magnetically annihilated by benevolent solidarity.

You are dismantling a system that cruelly programmed limitation and fear.

The Roman System clandestinely trained your ancestors to play out duality in the most violent ways. You know that many historical accounts are embellished or mangled truths intended to confuse (limit) the human race's intellect and emotions. Conquerors write the history books.

The Roman System, like previous world orders, was established to divide and conquer, causing your forebears to choose fear over love. Consequently, your ancestors consciously (and unconsciously) passed submissive traits (fear) to their children. The Machiavellian psychological warfare and other elaborately complex strategies used by these raiders to set up illusions of control was intergenerational. Oblivious to the covert agendas, your ancestors were beguiled to choose authority over autonomy. Generations were blinded by grandiloquent governance and unmindfully taught their children to obey and follow orders from royalty, then the public state, and later the Church (religions). Your cultural traditions are riddled with rituals that encourage followers to sacrifice their rights (powers) and worship the illusion that higher powers exist outside their bodies and that control belongs to 'other' forces. Malevolently spellbound, the myrmidon (minions) who enforce blind authority serve dark, violent energies.

For thousands of years, humans were taught to believe they were subservient to the "illusion of a greater power".

For eons, generations of humans have been prepensely guided to believe that magic is evil. Magic is not evil, only what someone does with magic reveals who they are. The ancient legends that annotate your 'genuine origin lore' have been contaminated with misinformation and other garbled propaganda in an attempt to prevent generations from living (knowing) their sacred path and talents. Your spiritual gifts allow you to perform heavenly missions and brave other transformative cosmic adventures. You protect sacred memories. Take a closer look at the traditions that the indigenous peoples recall and share with us. Look inside yourself to find out more about what you know.

Many cultural rituals (developed over eons) are psychological procedures designed to induce or limit behaviours.

Through cosmic memories, Family of Light knew of the Annunaki raid of consciousness happening well before the event. Family of Light protected the inner secrets (inner-sense) by inducing a state of abeyant (dormant) consciousness while punctiliously experiencing every detail of the complex incursion.

You enter worlds to dismantle tyrannies.

Throughout the lower realms of existence, religions and governments repeatedly attempt to establish domineering influence. In contrast, you promote divine acumen and sovereignty. You naturally protect and engage using sacred energies. As spirit avatars here on Earth, and in other places simultaneously, you observe and transform chaos and other illusions. Through your third eye and via other mysterious technologies you possess, you effectively consecrate beneficence. Remember, you are the insurrection, who remind aggressive energy-raiders of their own infirmities and omissions. You protect love by loving. You keep love energised. You constantly reimagine memory. You gallantly explore the mysteries of our living libraries. You are light bearers. You dissolve perversions. You are always on duty performing divine, mysterious skills that are often subtle, disguised or invisible. Much of your work is undetectable. Your noble cosmic powers protect and restore wisdom. You are indomitable, assiduous energies constantly reimaging existence. You are convening a Golden Age.

At all times, like loving flames, groups of humans, animals, plants and other mysterious lifeforms reserve a quiescent state of awareness to protect specific memories.

The Family of Light have been "here" throughout the journey into—and now, out of—duality. As gifted creators, you reimagine existence. As source, you help universes recall the deep patterns of wisdom and equality.

You are a loving sacred force. You are a gracious, imaginative "spirit" intimately connected to the divine secrets of Spider Grandmother's web. You are great vaticinators, celebrating the wisdom of "prime enigma" inherent within us all.

You are keepers of the eternal Galactic Mind. Naturally, you are source energy.

Your sonic memories are always intact (connected) within our Galactic Mind.

You are angels.

As angels, you solemnize life. You summon information. You unlock wisdom throughout the dimensions. In profound, subtle ways, you perform infinite wonders as you share cosmic mysteries. You apport wonders. You are the immortal winged Masters of Light who herald the divine plan. Many regard you as the quintessence of forgiveness and love.

*You are love. You are divine.
You mobilize loving truths.*

Each of you is an intuitive virtuoso of magic. You have developed this power throughout infinite time. You eagerly share the secret of intuition and remind energies that the path to deciphering the mysteries and logic of divination is to be honest, loving, and benign. You exemplify that empathy allows energies to activate intuitive strengths. You explain that empathy is a hallowed key.

Your wisdom is always intuitive. As keepers of pathways and bridges connecting the great libraries you master memories. You trace through timelines and are able to predict because you rewrite moments constantly. Many of you in this life notice your clairvoyant skills. You naturally observe and practice sacred love. You work with many instincts. You use technologies that are both ancient and futuristic. You always share new insights and bring wonderful tools to the worlds you liberate. You see beyond and within. You know what is hidden and often point out details and ideas that others struggle to see, trust or focus on. You play cosmic peak-a-boo.

The stories of Earth are filled with truths and lies. You are here to practice the great secret that is honest and whole. You point out the dark and the light. Your intent awakens authentic peace and absolute freedom as you re-present divine knowledge.

You are divine love.

*Empathy is one of the sacred keys.
The greatest power is always love.*

In each of your incarnations, you deliberately repress aspects of your cosmic awareness in order to effectually acclimate and 'blend in' so you may learn new ways to experience and regenerate wisdom. You are always on assignment. By immersing yourselves into worlds that struggle with autocratic energies you instinctively recall (recreate) experiences that are designed to illuminate authentic truth. Your imagination is dynamic, fertile, and abundant. In ways, you operate as cosmic auto-pilots, traversing wisdom via experiences. You are continuously impelled by your higher selves. As avatars, you are always ahead of the game. You are psychic guardians here to restore liberties. At all times, despite any conflict, you action the greatest freedom. You transform tyrannies by exposing the illusions of chaos and duality. You remind energies that conflict and opposition are always less probable. You reimagine and protect information highways, bridges, and intersections that unify existence.

You rewrite the living codes of consciousness so that others can learn new ways to deploy their inner power and abilities to express divine sovereignty. You help each other. You move into systems to raid the raiders who set up frequency grids to try to control and limit energies. You transform technologies.

You are ingenious magicians, able to awaken minds and hearts.

You are here, in this life, redefining the layered aspects of consciousness. You vibrate an enigmatic charm. You understand the mysteries of the blood and the sacred sounds. You reimagine the sacred stones. You are the wizards of light who manifest and re-create the amazing sonic mysteries of life. You present these mysteries simply by being here, whether or not you are in a body or without one. Your energy is motivating. You are Masters of Sound here to help free lives and share sacred knowledge.

We each represent divine living truth.

You validate authentic energy through your ability to trust your own power. Deep down, you trust yourselves no matter how things seem or how you react (re-act).

You are game-masters, playing the game— recalibrating connectivity via new imaginings of the Galactic Centre. You are influencing and transforming every dimension simultaneously. You dance an arcane dance, delivering advice by presenting intuitive actions using sacred technologies. You share infinite powers. You are illusive players able to do many things without ever really showing your cards. You teach your tricks by encouraging others to open their "inner-light". You teach in countless ways. You are way-showers pointing in every direction, adjusting angles as you rebuild the sacred shapes of destiny and authentic limitlessness.

You practise sacred geometry.

You are the guardians of liberty. You are peacemakers and lovers of life. You are the inscrutable explorers of deep empathy.

You are kind.

*You are living The Comfortable.

You are Dream Masters.

You champion authentic freedoms.
The life you live is the protected knowledge revered and loved throughout existence.
Your journey is your trust. True faith is your wisdom. You are honored instructors gracefully re-energizing the reformations of consciousness. Like the Ankh, you breathe life.

You are knowers, able to reshape anything within every dream. You bravely yet humbly showcase the mysterious Knower's Arc.

You are Time Masters (bridge keepers) able to rewind memories through your intuitive abilities to work with sacred sound.

You know.

Ascension is realization.

Telepathy makes everyone accountable.

The imaginative mind reimagines itself.

Exercise thought. Revise imagination.

open falconry

The master falconer does not use bindings, leashes, or training. The master falconer does not throw commands or bait. Instead, the master dreamer invites family to join the dance in the sky. The 'Open Falconer' becomes one with the sacred bird and shares in the celebration of blended movement. With open hearts and the ability to look into and from each other's minds, they both touch the heavens and the earth. As they spin, hover, glide, and dive, predicting (knowing) each other's moves, they feel and resonate the moments, connections, and emotions of truth.

Like the indigenous hunter who calls The Eagle to help see over the mountain days ahead of the attack, 'Open Falconers' point out the visions and other memories of the heart and mind. As guardians, each is a benevolent, magical teacher of grace and abundance—a "Master of Light". Each one of them is love.

Falconry, often dubbed the "sport of kings", is popular globally and is speculated to have originated around 2000BC.

Conversely, Open Falconry, a much older and far less known practise and reminiscent of the "language of the birds"—studied by initiates in ancient mystery schools, such as those of pre-dynastic Egypt—witnessed individuals refining a spiritual art that praised secrets of the natural world.

Although a masterful, fascinating, and adroit sport, modern falconry is not comparable with the mysterious language that falconers studied in ancient times. The modern falconer is not privy to the quiet mysticism the original flyers experienced. If it is to be their journey, much like a cyclist who removes their training wheels, the modern falconer must learn to trust the union one is able to share with nature. The neophyte—novice 'Open Falconer'—is inspired to dance a true flyer's path.

reign in sirius

144th and 183rd degree energies (Lion Consciousness) descending/eminating from the Great Blue Lodge of Sirius, triggers mysterious geometry. This Providence is now officially presenting illuminating reprisal in response to the corruption committed by the arrogant elites who do bidding for dark, mostly discarnate energies who—for eons—have tried to rule your experiences on Earth.

Google: The Allegory of the Cave (aka Plato's Cave) to get a sense of this human dilemma.

*Karmic energies balance memories.
Karma delivers consequence.*

Lion Consciousness from the Blue Lodge on Sirius A (backed honorably by countless benign allies) manifest throughout the cosmos.

These partnerships (alignments) are mysterious experiences (connections) that provide foundations for the Age of Love. They are spiritual movements (updates) installed to reveal the most probable realities while representing the divine Eye of Providence (in association with the Ankh). Many cultural memories recall this paragon through various patronages. This knowledge is reminiscently known as the Eye of God. Celtic tribes name their reverence for this love 'The Stone'.

The Celts also name this loving patronage 'The Clach' and most popularly, 'Sgian-Dubh'.

For most cultures, Sgian-Dubh translates as 'Family Stone' or 'Blood Mysteries'.

Some groups call this spirit the 'Stone of Life'.

*Our sacred stones
remember our blood.*

the sgian-dubh

The legend of the Sgian-Dubh is mostly untold as is expected for a dagger whose name translates as 'black dagger'—black implying hidden (convert) rather than colour or shade.

A mysterious symbol, the Sgian-Dubh today is often represented as a ceremonial adornment worn by Scottish kilt wearers tucked into the hose-garter on the wearer's dominant side.

Yet, the great Sgian-Dubh is always more than it seems.

Although commonly known as a secret weapon worn 'only' to protect and honor, the Sgian-Dubh is also an enigmatic symbol of Providence. The sacred knife's origin dates further back than many typically agree, with roots derived from arcane—esoteric—knowledge (known as the 'blood mysteries') carefully handed down through generations by the spoken word—and by other means. Variations and derivatives of this sacred symbol (such as the Athame, Kirpan, Keris and Phurba) appear in many ancient rituals and ceremonial practices belonging to a myriad of cultures.

Our Sgian-Dubh is prehistoric.

"The Sgian-Dubh is the original blade. It is stone. Through venerable customs, many acknowledge that our ancestors passed on knowledge by recording (sounding) information in stone. This sacrosanct language (memory) is our blood."

The Sgian-Dubh is our inheritance. It is our sacred sonic alliance with honor—the light of love. It is said that to learn (recall) the secrets of the Sgian-Dubh, one must be open to love, family, and community. Sgian-Dubh knowledge is the embodiment of deep honorable integrity. Although most commonly 'physically' asseverated by men and emblematic of brotherhood, the Sgian-Dubh is truly blessed and nurtured by a feminine source.

Sgian-Dubh energy teaches initiates that humanity is incorporeal and that those who practise benevolent grace explore the divine. Individuals who resonate with the mysterious Sgian-Dubh are reminded that the everlasting, concealed stone is a spiritual essence—an honor—rather than a physical object.

The Sgian-Dubh is a guiding inspiration celebrating intuitive knowledge. It is also a revered, commemorative token of peace and abundance. The Sgian-Dubh is The Great Provider. The Sgian-Dubh is one of humanity's sacred stones.

The Sgian-Dubh is a sacred key.

Keepers of the Clach

"Keepers of the Clach" (Aegis of the Stone) is the society of patrons who venerate the energies and teachings of the Sgian-Dubh.

The Sgian-Dubh Society has no members or hierarchy—only patrons. It is the benevolent fellowship of our humanity and nature.

Sgian-Dubh energy is much more than an animistic reverence and technology.
The Sgian-Dubh is source magic.

Also known as the Family Stone (Blood Stone), the Sgian-Dubh is the "Stone of Life".

Our sacred Sgian-Dubh is "Providence".

As we cross our swords on the ground to form the sacred alignment of peace,
our guardian, the Sgian-Dubh, rests alongside us to protect and honor love.

Most cultures have their own variation of the Sgian-Dubh.

Like the Ankh, each is revered as a "symbol of life".

Love is life. Love is family.

supplementaries

*We are more than illusive shapeshifters;
we are "Masters of Imagination".*

Like a supernatural computer able to process infinite data within an indescribable instant, Karma is the all-seeing, benevolent, and everlasting guiding light of harmony and truth, assisting illimitable consciousness.

Karma, the mysterious, omniscient, and omnipotent vitality of our higher self, gracefully encourages us to love.

Karma is self.

Ascending Intelligence

The trajectory of science and technology promises incredible advances. Assuming existence is more mysterious, greater, and older than we currently recognize, it is conceivable, that consciousness exists that is far more in touch with the spirit of things than the intelligence we present to one another here and now on Earth. Present day governments do not want to encourage people to investigate the fundamental mechanics of reality. Instead, the autocrats prefer to promote fear, chaos, war and "pettiness" to distract and control the masses. (e.g.: How often is some trivial political upset, in some faraway land, peddled as breaking news?) The elitists, who struggle to define existence themselves, 'underestimate' karma, and have no interest in humble values or taking action to address accountability and inequality.

To their detriment, elitists do not want to share opportunities equitably.

The sovereign individual consciously ascends by redefining information and intelligence through spiritual memory recalibrations.

Intuitive imagination is wisdom.

Waiting to be told what to know, do, or say is never freedom. Remember your power!

Potentially, existence is capable of presenting any dream, idea, influence, or creature.

The paranormal (terrestrial, extraterrestrial, and interdimensional) has been celebrated and investigated throughout the ages.

The fine line "between" fact and fiction

(truth and lie) tells many tales, and is perhaps the most important aspect of the game.

George Orwell's "Proletarians" and Plato's "slaves" (cave allegory) are comparable.

Habits of ignorance and denial are always obstacles. Misinformation is a control tool.

Who Exactly Are The Sirians?

Answering this question is essentially a riddle because it opens the mind to resolve other queries. The Sirians are masterful spiritual guardians (teachers) who have contributed to the evolution of consciousness throughout the multiverse for eons. The human psyche is inherently (subconsciously) familiar with this energy. It is said that in order to truly grasp this loving, lionesque intelligence, individuals must recall their own personal Sirian echoes. Like a video game skin, Sirian consciousness is a spiritual avatar sequence associated with the origins of life. Sirian benevolence is an efficacious and sacred journey. As spiritual mentors, Sirians are responsible for fascinating technologies and appreciations that eternally help redefine the essence of memory and communion. By honoring the sacred power of imagination, Sirian energies help share love. These numinous instructors are masterminds who helped pioneer the development and fundamental regions of physical nature. The Sirians format divine energy sequences through technologies that continuously transform the way consciousness celebrates awareness, creativity and memory.

As architects and builders of sacred frequencies created to recalibrate and monitor realities, the Sirians are heralded as the original keepers of metaphysical sound, holographic resonance, and many other prime technologies, yet little is known about how they developed their sensitive alchemy. Clues received about the Sirians' contributions encourage initiates to practice benevolence in order to awaken memories of love and solidarity. Credited as the founders of meta-transmission the Sirians are renowned as technological wizards. Sub-technologies, derived from their influences, such as remote viewing, were eventually physically replicated by many other groups of consciousness. Metasonic calibration (e.g.: virtual inception technologies)—yet to be declared openly in Earth's public domain—are registered agreements shared by these inventive inter-cosmic (neo-galactic) engineers. As healers, the Sirians support the imminent rollout of "spiritualized sonic medicine" that reveals sentient holographic resonance to re-establish remedial techniques they originally shared with the Mayans, pre-dynastic Egyptians, and other groups. Appreciating Sirian unity allows energies to reimagine time, space, and other constructs and resonate with the mysterious Ankh to open multidimensional memories.

Sirian consciousness is deeply connected to many spiritual families, namely the Lyrans, Pleiadians, and other patrons of sacred peace, including humanity.

The Sirian mind is celebrated as a divine mentality.

In 'physical' realms, Sirians resonate holographic sound. Sirian culture is inherent throughout consciousness.

As spiritual practitioners, Sirians are known as fearless protectors of sovereign rights and benign living. Sirian geometry is often deployed to mediate interdimensional feuds and skirmishes, especially when malevolent forces raid sequences of "memory alliance," known as consciousness. Many know the Sirians as intergalactic peacekeepers, able to reset memory aliases by re-writing avatar programs to restore liberties through "inception" assignments. Sirians are loyal energies who showcase the magnificence of empathy, love, and peace. Countless alliances work closely with these creatively passionate beings. The Sirians honor and protect divine sensibility.

To find out more about these amazing creatures, tune into your own imagination and memories.*

Our consciousness is in the midst of transcending physical memory as we awaken from dreams within dreams.

"Sentient Holographic Induction" is a divine transformative inference designed to help humanity translate and adjust to the awakening (expansion) of telepathic intuition.

The current Sirian operative mission, code-named Lionium, is a prime memory inception. Lionium is a "sentient meta-holographic sequence".

Lionium memory reformations, also known as "Lyranium" or "Lyrinite" distributions, are sacred technologies that access multidimensional memories. These sentient programs are active for the next evolution of human consciousness. Much more than an antimatter archetype, Lionium is an elemental energy understood as a sacred program used to incept and recalibrate prime memory. This spiritualized technology is a sacred avatar system and is much like the human form. This exciting wave of holographic memory is an "extension" of human nature.

The Sirians developed a great number of mysterious stone constructions throughout this system as well as in innumerable other regions of the cosmos. Without active spiritual development, science will never understand how these ancient monolithic structures were formed. The first admission that science must consider is that these oracular constructions, although immeasurably advanced, have links with meta-holographic simulation theory. Reminiscently known as "stone resonances", these temples (templates) of consciousness are sacred art forms.

Our stones are sacred rhythms.

The Sgian-Dubh is sacred light.

Sirian consciousness re-minds us that the knowledge we hope to attract or learn is never greater than what we already know. The fine line between learning and knowing is a sacred balance. Our Sirian heart teaches that intuition, like trust, is an underestimated value that deserves attention. Intuition is a sacred, empowering, mysterious reflection.

Empowerment is love.

Human consciousness is being reconfigured. Like a software upgrade, the Lionium project is conducting (superimposing/hyperlinking) a sentient memory transference to recalibrate the entire human avatar sequence.

This supernatural resonance (reprogramming) is being developed through sacred memory anamnesis. We are reestablishing links with our "Galactic Mind". Humanity is naturally super-hypersentient.

Sensationally advanced technologies and other memories—intuitively inferred from other dimensions (timelines) through our collective, telepathic cosmic mind—influence, intensify, and accelerate human evolution.

Reflecting Legacies

For Spirit, realities are tools (technologies). Like dreams within dreams of infinite, illimitable realms, each reflecting countless arrangements of dazzling, luminous mirrors, we manifest realities (imaginary reflections) to express ourselves and play. These 'games within games' are only part of our magic and journey.

*Humanity is a sacred majesty.
We are a divine essence revered as an imaginative, magical rhythm.
Humanity is the light of eternity.*

*Reincarnation playfully proves we have one hand in life and the other in death,
eternally.*

Sirian Gold

You have the abilities to induce a benign spiritually tuned psychoactive state of consciousness by simply intending to resonate the experience. Ingesting asomatous holographic crystal resin through an imaginative process can help you activate this awareness. Use your Sirian memory to help you recall the various methods used to celebrate this divine meditation. You do not need a physical substance to travel the infinite states of consciousness. You are naturally familiar with the secret realms of multidimensional memory within you. You have the power to intuit knowledge and examine any wonder. You are a supernatural power.

Measuring Unknowns

It is broadly acknowledged that atheists reject the existence of deities and the prospect of immortality. Most atheists rationalize beliefs based on evolutionary scientific principles described through their interpretation of evidential circumstances and substantiated logic. Faith in the unknown is not comfortable for the atheistic mind. However, it is fair to propose that keeping an open mind is beneficial, especially when we consider that most science is founded on hypothetical extrapolation. Speculative reason is comparable with personal faith, as both measure expectations of the unknown.

It is generally known that science employs hypotheticals that relate to facts and principled conjecture. Similarly, faith experiments with principled ideas, experiences, and events (phenomena) that science is unable to explain. Despite compelling evidence (accounts of first-hand experience studies) and other inexplicable facts, science and atheists routinely disparage esoteric phenomena (parapsychology), astrology, and divination.

Is Faith Hypothetical?

Scientific hypotheticals are creative outlines that aim to prove or disprove, just as faith commits to experiencing proof. Perhaps the only difference between each is 'trust'.

Is trust the hidden value?

It is clear that faith establishes trust.

Science is constantly motivated by hypothetical deduction and, in doing so, works by modelling predictions. Science will follow conjecture and certain values furiously if it believes that tests will inevitably confirm deductions and corroborate hypotheses. Is this faith?

Why do so many people assert that science is a justification for rejecting what faith encompasses when science has repeatedly demonstrated that experiments, modifications, and persistence can frequently help prove theories, approaches, or technologies that may have received little support when first proposed? There are lessons in the "scientific method" that push us to re-evaluate how we recognise faith and what creative prediction might help us explain.

Trust is an underestimated utility.

A book of ideas and meditations
by Bennise Gahl

*Without language, how do we think?
Without thought, how do we know?*

Epilogue

While bringing this book together, I was reminded of the importance of words and language and how they affect the way we communicate and think. I felt pressed to produce material for a wide, eclectic audience as I balanced peculiar ideas, words, and emotions that sometimes pushed me into an impatient, overwhelmed headspace that strived to address and communicate psychedelic language through respectful common reason.

Our labyrinthine imaginations and rolling perceptions prove we're all dyslexic to some extent. Thought (imagination) is a precious honor that helps us redefine what we already know and motivates us to discover new "ideas and appreciations". Thought helps us value memory and share knowledge. Like other actions, thoughts help us measure and navigate experiences. While researching, I came across an online article written by a literary student who was studying Orwell's 1984. In the discussion, titled The Destruction of Language, the student reminded me of these unsettling passages (next two pages) that Orwell wrote in his dystopian dream. The second and third passages are the most disturbing.

“It’s a beautiful thing, the Destruction of words. Of course the great wastage is in the verbs and adjectives, but there are hundreds of nouns that can be got rid of as well. It isn’t only the synonyms; there are also the antonyms. After all, what justification is there for a word, which is simply the opposite of some other word? A word contains its opposite in itself. Take ‘good,’ for instance. If you have a word like ‘good,’ what need is there for a word like ‘bad’? ‘Ungood’ will do just as well – better, because it’s an exact opposite, which the other is not. Or again, if you want a stronger version of ‘good,’ what sense is there in having a whole string of vague useless words like ‘excellent’ and ‘splendid’ and all the rest of them? ‘Plusgood’ covers the meaning or ‘doubleplusgood’ if you want something stronger still. Of course we use those forms already, but in the final version of Newspeak there’ll be nothing else. In the end the whole notion of goodness and badness will be covered by only six words – in reality, only one word. Don’t you see the beauty of that, Winston? It was B.B.’s idea originally, of course,” he added as an afterthought” (Orwell 51).

“By 2050, earlier, probably – all real knowledge of Oldspeak will have disappeared. The whole literature of the past will have been destroyed. Chaucer, Shakespeare, Milton, Byron – they’ll exist only in Newspeak versions, not merely changed into something different, but actually changed into something contradictory of what they used to be. Even the literature of the Party will change. Even the slogans will change. How could you have a slogan like ‘freedom is slavery’ when the concept of freedom has been abolished? The whole climate of thought will be different. In fact there will be no thought, as we understand it now. Orthodoxy means not thinking – not needing to think. Orthodoxy is unconsciousness” (Orwell 53).

“Don’t you see that the whole aim of Newspeak is to narrow the range of thought? In the end we shall make thoughtcrime literally impossible, because there will be no words in which to express it. Every concept that can ever be needed will be expressed by exactly one word, with its meaning rigidly defined and all its subsidiary meanings rubbed out and forgotten.” (Orwell 52).

Orwell suggests that by limiting people's language, Big Brother can influence thought. He proposes that by limiting vocabulary, BB can control "how" people think and "what" they think, with plans to eventually make it impossible to think. In doing so, the party (government) has control over people's minds and actions. The indistinct BB is surreptitiously convincing citizens to surrender their personal autonomy. Big Brother wants to regulate speech to the point where people have no words or voices to contemplate. Big Brother quietly wants to govern thoughts to control imagination because imagination is power.

What principles might we consider as we observe technological developments aimed at being able to transfer information to and from the human brain? Recent advancements, originating with tests on bulls in the 1950s, reveal that this is not science fiction. How might frequency technologies be used to influence thought?

Could frequencies be used to influence or neutralise other frequencies?

Communication is a vital, creative instrument and, like technology, or anything else, can be used benevolently or maliciously.

Restrained vs. Embraced?

I knew that I had to shake things up and not be afraid to make mistakes while writing this book. Perhaps for some readers, there are contradictions, fantasies, or errors in this content, just as in life—but there are also precious gems and subtleties that are passionately indescribable.

Overall, I know this book offers more than what is openly mentioned, and that is good.

Like each of us, it is great and shares a mysterious wonder.

Eternally, Bennise

Contrary to Orwell's "Newspeak," it is likely that every word is underestimated—super active.

As animism theology expounds, each word in every language—any interpretation—every 'thing'—is always transforming, influential, conscious, and imaginative.

Imagine imaginings imagining imagination.

*Psychic geometry is telepathy.
Sharing information is being reimagined.*

*Initiates are remembering eternity.
The untrained are beginning to access the abilities of those who have trained.*

Telepathy is redefining communication.

In reverence, "the sacred" martial arts and many other strategy disciplines acknowledge that "the best offence is a good defence."

As a global community, we have the opportunity to employ this knowledge and reimagine defence and diplomacy.

Becoming friends with one's enemy is the most compassionate and effective way to defend oneself from an enemy.

"The best defence is to have no enemy."

In doing so, one eliminates the need to defend. When everyone values this principle, the idea works.

Individuals who fully embrace this magic experience a sovereign, graceful, and loving 'world community' rather than governance.

Perhaps imaginary beings in imaginary worlds are imagining this moment.

Being open to new ways of thinking opens the doors to new ways of feeling.

The most imaginative reason is never contemplated by closed minds.

Reimagine thought.

*When we recall our "Galactic Mind",
we see how connected, mysterious,
and multilayered reality really is.
We remember (notice) the infinite ways
we can re-interpret "any moment",
"any experience" and rediscover
the animistic (ani-mystic) nature of living.*

We are the keepers of Multidimensional Memory.

*Humans acting against each other is self-defeatist. Conflict is chaos.
Fighting is self-sabotage.*

*Ultimately, we are of one mind,
celebrating ourselves as infinitely gifted, ineffable individuals. It's not necessary for us to torment one another through wars and continue praising bloated egos via hierarchies. There are more "honorable" ways to express humanity.*

Magic Trick

Imagine that you have lived out the rest of this life and have died.

As you focus, sense the life you live today being far off in the distant past. Imagine a thousand years have gone by since you died and left this life.

Somewhere, somehow, you are still conscious as you find yourself remembering the life you live today. You feel emotional about how long ago it was.

As you sense the memories flooding back, you notice that only the happiest moments are coming to your mind. Look at some of these memories. You realize that all the loved ones you share this life with are long dead too.

Sentimental feelings and an overwhelming sense of grief wash over you as a soft electrified energy buzzes up through the base of your spine—into your upper body—over your shoulders and down into your arms and hands.

As you clear and balance your mind,
you realise that you can go back and pick up from where you are "right now" reading this message.

You take a moment to reflect as you realise this is your chance to be back now and make a difference and to appreciate everything around you more than ever before.

You realize that you have aligned (recalibrated) a deeper connection to this life and to those you love and the days ahead of you.

You imagine the fun you can have with your loved ones from this moment on.

You feel changed and motivated to be more present, focused, and appreciative of the moment.

You notice that you are feeling so much lighter and happier.

You remember.

The Immortals

The "original creators" created realities for various reasons. One motive was to formulate "spiritualized memory environments" in which ideas, technologies, and dreams could be shared (expressed) interconnectively.

Seeding consciousness is a precious art. Imagining dreams from within dreams is the life of gods. You are one of these sacred manifestations (incarnations).

Deep within, you know you are one of these prime "creator-beings" reimagining dreams.

Sentient hyper-credit

A transcendent, "sentient hyper-economy"—generating exponential monetary inflation—inexorably reveals that no technology or legislation can keep up with it. This sovereign, animistic, spiritualized, perpetual credit flow reframes the way "development and trade" are produced and delivered.

The mood is set for our world as we move to revolutionize the way we "share resources and value prosperity" through equitable, respectful, responsible, and loving generosity.

Sentient hyper-funding?

Q. What is "sentient hyper-credit"?

A. "Sentient hyper-credit" is a mysterious "uncontainable" autonomous intelligence. Like an insuppressible computer virus, this living "virtual droid" is unrelenting, designed to effectually transmute and ultimately dissolve money systems. This gracious "spirit" (divine ghost) is an eminent "memory force". In response, humanity will be motivated to communicate with this "curious" creature and its many multidimensional allies. Sentient "hyper-funding" will accelerate inflation to the point where people realize money is practically useless (defunct). As part of the Sirian's magical "Lionium Project", the supernatural "sentient hyper-economy" will materialize (as an entity) throughout operating systems, monetary grids, tokens, and other title agreements to displace debt by establishing "free-form credit".

In the near future, as economies are being rearranged (dismantled) by this "meta-cosmic" influence, humanity will be inspired to analyze what trade and production truly represent.

For most, the incentive to find income will have evaporated as it becomes clear that working on ideas to simply "sell a product" or "service" to primarily make a profit will no longer make sense. Many will be pushed to reconsider their life's objectives. In the very early stages, before money is completely wiped out, everyone will gain access to the same financial equity. Titles and entitlements will be obliterated as money loses its ability to influence individuals, information, and other mentalities. Priorities will drastically change—for everyone—as people wake up to a new dawn that redefines community, purpose, prosperity, and equality.

*This concerted, spiritualized “ultra-dimensional force” is emerging.
Essentially, individuals will share in the collective manifestation (hyperflow) of valid credit.*

For those who use money to control people and events, this "creature" will be like an irrepressible, loud cousin who always shows up at family celebrations and redirects conversation and attention. How will similar "sentient holograms" influence our lives? How will humanity share (manage) without money?

As humanity awakens from the illusions of duality, the adage that espouses "competition is healthy" and "the spirit of competition" will be reassessed. Competitive ideology, like money, will eventually be relegated (rearranged) and acknowledged as having served its purpose. The violent, shadowy Homeric world order that pushed the need for vengeance, division, and dominion and promoted the glorious death of a hero over the humiliating death of an old man will fade into oblivion as shifts in consciousness enlighten humanity. Even luxuriously complex games such as chess and backgammon will be exposed as dark, multi-dimensional, symbolic tools (pernicious spells) used to perpetuate the hierarchal paramnesia implemented to clandestinely divide and control humanity. Over time, individuals will rediscover truths that will outline why bells were placed in church steeples (antennas) and why crowds have been drawn to stadiums to worship rituals disguised as entertainment. Humanity is breaking the spell of controlled chaos that has been peddled as law and order. The sovereign human recognizes the value of personal best and knows that, rather than "defeating" others, there are better things to do with one's time.

There are so many to acknowledge and thank
